A Message From United Way's Board Chair

Giving of yourself just feels good!

Having been involved with United Way for more than a decade, it's a tremendous honor to serve as this year's Board Chair and share with you the great news contained within this year's Impact Report.

You'll see lots of compelling, positive information:

Stacy Ranieri

While these are certainly milestones to be celebrated, our vision for our community is so bold that we'll need all of you – our donors, volunteers, advocates and community partners – to continue your passionate support and generous investment in our work.

Through numerous community conversations and strategic brainstorming sessions that have taken place during the last two years, United Way has distilled some big ideas down to six priority areas that help us articulate our aspirations for our community.

If you're reading this report, you already have a relationship with the United Way and are devoted to lifting our community. On behalf of all of us who strive to lighten the burden of others, I thank you for your devotion, compassion and generous spirit.

If you asked what else you could do it would be this: share this year's Impact Report with others, describe our six priority areas so people can be easily inspired, and remind them that while taking on these challenges may not be easy, they are worth pursuing.

Stacy Ranieri

Board Chair,
United Way of Martin County

When you think of United Way, we hope you'll remember these goals and our vision for our future:

United Way of Martin County Tocqueville Society

United Way of Martin County's Tocqueville Society provides the passion, expertise, and inspirational leadership that enables United Way to drive real change. In 2013-14, Tocqueville Society members contributed more than $850,000 in Martin County, and more than $530 million nationwide.

The annual Tocqueville Society membership recognition reception took place at the Loblolly Country Club in Hobe Sound. The evening was co-hosted by Susan & John Sullivan and Maralyn & Mike Reilly, and graciously underwritten by Wilmington Trust. Mariner Sands resident Judith Mott along with the memory of her late husband, Lambert, were honored with the Alexis de Tocqueville Outstanding Philanthropy Award for their longtime support of United Way.

United Way of Martin County Foundation

Weissman & Croce, pledge $1 Million each

Bob Weissman and Bob Croce, have joined forces as co-chairs of the Foundation endowment campaign.

“The program needs of our community have grown over the years at a greater level than the annual United Way appeal has been able to support.” Weissman says. “Our gifts, along with others who have contributed, will help build the Foundation endowment fund and we could eliminate this shortfall on a perpetual basis.”

“One solution to ensuring that future community needs are funded is for donors to endow gifts,” Croce says. “Endowed gifts provide help in perpetuity and have a profound impact forever on helping people in the community.”

Foundation honors Pres & Helen Blake

The Foundation honored Prestley and Helen Blake with the 2014 Frances Langford Humanitarian Award. The Blake’s scope of philanthropic interest has supported a wide variety of issues in Martin County and their amazing legacy will long be enjoyed and appreciated for generations to come.

Thomas “Todd” H. Thurlow III assumes Presidency

Ted Brown passes the torch to Todd Thurlow as the new Foundation president. Brown will continue to serve as vice president.

Thomas H. Thurlow III and Ted Brown

“I am confident in Todd’s ability to lead us in our continuing efforts to further the mission of the Foundation,” says Brown.

“I want to thank my predecessors for successfully guiding the Foundation and look forward to carrying the momentum,” Thurlow said. “I am honored to work with a board of exceptional leaders who are dedicated to meeting the future needs of our community.”

2013-14 Allocations and Designations

For the first time in the 42 year history of United Way of Martin County, distributions to agencies from the annual campaign and United Way Foundation combined exceeded $2 million dollars. Reaching this milestone is the result of good stewardship practices by United Way Board members and staff in raising additional revenue, keeping overhead costs low and investing all available resources in changing lives together and lifting the community.
